Wrapping it up

Game Ready introduced its CPM-compatible Articulated Knee Wrap at the AAOS and APTA CSM meetings in February. Using patented NASA technology, the wraps are intended to make it easy for practitioners to administer the most difficult-to-manage aspects of RICE therapy. Providing the benefits of vasopneumatic compression and cryotherapy, the wrap is designed to maximize both coverage of and application to the entire knee joint. The Game Ready Articulated Knee Wrap applies the same Game Ready science relied upon by doctors, physical therapists, athletic trainers, and athletes in one of the only applications of both cryotherapy and intermittent compression developed specifically for CPM machines.
